GERMAN CHINESE PLOT FAILS RUSSIAN DRIVE ON LEMBERG

DRUM CORPS TO BE AT PICNIC JULY 14

Chamber of Commerce Organization Received Invitation from Committee to Come and Make Merry

Drum Corps Made a Hit at Crosby Recently, Receiving Favorable Notice from Press and the Public

The Chamber of Commerce file and drum corps will be one of the attractions at the big community picnic at Long Lake Saturday, July 14, an invitation having been received from the committee to "come and make merry" at the big community doings which so many are anticipating with keen delight.

Members of the organization will meet at the Chamber of Commerce promptly at 11:30 sharp and those who have autos available are urged to have them ready for the use of the members. William Nelson will be in charge of the boys and the plan is to reach the picnic grounds no later than 12:30. A band has been provided for by the general committee and the local organization of "noise-makers" will not be expected to appear as dispensers of music on this occasion but are going as a representative body of wide-awake young men from the county seat town to participate in the enjoyment of the day and to add their bit to the program.

The drum corps made a big hit at Crosby recently and received much favorable comment both in the press of that city and from the public. They will be available at all outings and tours of the Chamber of Commerce in the future and are recognized as a unique and decidedly emphatic means of advising the public that the "town in the heart of the state" is on the map and its people "live wires" in all that the term implies.

GERMANS TOLD TO QUIT UNITED STATES

Among the first to go will be Heinrich Schaffhausen, formerly attached to the German embassy, but left behind by Count von Bernstorff and since attached to the department of German interests of the Swiss legation.

In addition to Schaffhausen there is a long train of clerks and servants—at least they have served in such capacities in this country—although this government has no means of knowing definitely what the exact status of most of them is with the German government. There is ground for belief that many of them are persons of some importance to the German intelligence system.

Dr. George Barthelme, the author of the much discussed dispatch to the Cologne Gazette at the time diplomatic relations were severed, still is in Washington, but is required to report to certain government officials in person twice a week.

SIXTY-DAY EMBARGO ON EXPORTS URGED

Washington, July 9.—Recent heavy purchases of American foodstuffs by foreign countries, both allied and neutral, were considered by the export council.

Some members, it is understood, favored a complete embargo on food shipments for sixty days to give the United States time to make a survey of its supplies and to permit foreign governments to give a definite estimate of their requirements.

The first presidential proclamation putting certain commodities under export control is expected to be signed shortly. It is understood that coal and probably all foodstuffs will be named as among the first commodities on which licenses will be required for shipment.

CROW WING COUNTY CROPS SHOW UP WELL

First Hand View Shows Rye, Oats and Other Small Grains in the Finest Kind of Shape

Potatoes are Flourishing, Hot Weather Pushing Corn Ahead, Grass is Growing Well Too

Hollweg Statement Looked Forward to With Much Interest

(By United Press)

Berlin, July 9.—The signs multiply that the political liberalization of Germany portends and Hollweg's statement which will be made on Tuesday is looked forward to with great interest, especially as the attitude he may show on political reforms. From the central wing to the socialists all opinions of the reichstag are united that the electoral reform must be applied to Prussia if Prussia fails to adopt such plan of her own accord, and all parties indicate a disposition to demand the Prussian reform this fall.

A first hand view shows crops flourishing in Crow Wing county. Rye, oats and other small grains are doing well. Corn is coming ahead with a jump, the hot days and warm nights proving beneficial.

Potatoes are flourishing and a good crop is expected. Grass is pushing ahead and the weather, if it continues the same brand heretofore given, will do much to reduce a threatened hay shortage.

It is expected to harvest barley about August 15, rye about August 10, spring wheat and oats about August 15. Little, if any, winter wheat was sown in the county. The harvest dates mentioned are problematic, all depending on the weather. Berries and orchard fruits are reported growing well.

ALLIES IN REPRISAL RAID ON GERMANS

London, July 9.—Flinging down hundreds of tons of high explosive bombs on German interior cities in a swift succession of reprisal raids, an allied warplane armada has carried vengeance home to the foe, even bombarding the heart of Germany's munition system, the Krupp factories at Essen, Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig announced.

Fourteen German airplanes were swept from the air by the British in fighting over Belgium during a period marked by the greatest activity of the aerial forces on both sides. The German attack on London and the giant reprisal raid into Germany are the two mightiest air expeditions in the history of the world.

"Our air bombing squadron, comprising eighty-four machines, brilliantly performed a series of expeditions against towns in the interior of Germany," the official statement said.

"Eleven of our planes dropped twenty-four tons of bombs. Over Treves seven fires were observed. Six of our machines dropped bombs and damaged the important factory of Ludwigshafen, and other buildings, burned another airplane and bombed the Krupp works at Essen."

Road Improvement and Land Value.

The influence of road improvements on the value of rural property was described in a letter recently sent to the Manufacturers' Record by the president of the Baltimore Commercial bank, who wrote: "Around my home town in Virginia property could be bought three years ago for $60 to $80 an acre. We put a fine road several miles through that county, and today you cannot buy anything for less than $100, and some is held at $150 per acre."

Cause of Yawning.
Yawning is commonly caused by temporary deficiency of the air supply in the lungs. When the body is wearied and in a sleepy condition the process of respiration is sometimes involuntarily suspended for a few seconds. Nature at once, however, comes to the rescue and by setting up a spasmodic action in the muscles of the mouth, throat and chest produces a deep inspiration, which compensates for the stoppage of the breathing and is known as a yawn.

At the Best Tonight

Wm. Farnum appears in one of his strongest roles, in the super-picture, "The Price of Silence," a powerful portrayal of the child labor question. Called by a great many the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" of the screen for the freeing of children.

At the Best Tomorrow

Something new in the way of a motion picture was evolved when "The Stolen Paradise" was filmed. In the new-est World-Picture Brady-Made, the heroine is a charming young girl who marries a blind man and who is thought by the blind man to be another woman with whom he is deeply in love. Miss Ethel Clayton plays the role of the wife. She is simply charming in this part. The role of the husband is handled by Edward Langford who is handsome and likeable. The other members of the company are all very capable and are splendidly cast. You will most certainly like this production and you will be able to see it at the Best theatre tomorrow.

Old Age on Saturn.

We are reminded that if human beings lived on the planet Saturn they would be old at three years of age—not that life is any swifter or the cares of maturity any more pressing. It is merely because Saturn is so far from the sun that it takes nearly thirty years, according to the earth's measurement of time, to travel in its orbit round the sun.

DARING SEA ROVER

An Audacious Commerce Raider of the Days of 1863.

READ'S CAMPAIGN OF TERROR.

For a Time This Clever Young Confederate Naval Officer, by the Havoc He Wrought, Had the Shipping Trade of the North in a State of Panic.

The daring and romantic exploits of the roving commerce destroying cruisers in the great European war recall the deeds of a very brave and clever officer who acted as a commerce destroyer in the service of the Confederacy. Lieutenant Charles W. Read, a Mississippian in his early twenties, who had been in the United States navy, joined the Confederate cruiser Florida on Nov. 4, 1862, while she lay at Mobile undergoing repairs. Read had already seen gunboat service in the fighting at New Orleans.

On May 6, 1863, off the coast of Brazil the Florida captured the brig Clarence, bound from Rio de Janeiro to Baltimore with a cargo of coffee. Lieutenant Read suggested that he be permitted to take the captive, with her cargo and papers intact, and proceeding to Hampton roads, gain entrance there and either cut out a gunboat or burn the shipping gathered in the roads. Captain Magill gave him a howitzer and detailed an assistant engineer and twenty men for the enterprise.

A month later, off the South Carolina coast, the Clarence captured and burned the bark Whistling Wind, from Philadelphia to New Orleans with coal. The next day it picked up the schooner Alfred H. Partridge, and Read put her captain under a $5,000 bond to deliver the cargo of arms and clothing to the Confederates. On June 9 he took the brig Mary Alvina, Boston to New Orleans with commissary stores.

From his prisoners Read came to the conclusion that an attempt to enter Hampton Roads would meet with certain failure, and he turned his attention entirely to destroying Federal commerce. On June 12, within eight miles of Cape Henry, he made four captures—the bark Tacony, the schooner M. A. Shindler, the schooner Kate Stewart and the brig Arabella. Since the Clarence was a poor sailer, the young commander transferred his crew and howitzer to the Tacony. The Clarence and the M. A. Shindler he burned. The Arabella he bonded for $20,000 and the Kate Stewart for $7,000, and he used the latter to take ashore some fifty prisoners.

Those captures stirred the shipowners, and the shipowners promptly stirred up the secretary of the navy. The naval commanders at Newport News, Philadelphia and New York were ordered to send out vessels to chase the raider, which they did.
Meanwhile the Tacony, under her new colors, captured the brig Empire, which, with her cargo of sugar and molasses, was burned on June 15. Five days later the Tacony seized the packet ship Isaac Webb, Liverpool to New York with 750 passengers on board, and Read bonded her for $40,000. The same day he destroyed the fishing schooner Mienver, the clipper ship Byzantium and the bark Goodspeed, both bound for New York, were sunk on the next day, which was June 21.

By that time there were more than twenty Federal vessels pursuing the Tacony, and the shipping interests of New York were almost in a state of panic.

Read now sailed northward and off the coast of Massachusetts captured four fishing schooners on June 22. The following day he took two more. On June 24 he held up the ship Shattuck, from Liverpool to Boston, carrying a large number of immigrants, and bonded her for $150,000. That night he captured the fishing schooner Archer.

As the ammunition for the howitzer had become exhausted, Read transferred his crew to the Archer and burned the Tacony. On the morning of June 26 he picked up Portland light. Two fishermen, who mistook the schooner for a pleasure party, piloted her into Portland harbor.

The following morning at half past 1 o'clock Read and his men boarded the revenue cutter Caleb Cushing. She was captured without an alarm being given, but the tide was running in before her new masters could get her under way, and the wind had dropped.

They did escape from the harbor, but about twenty miles outside two large steamers bearing soldiers and armed civilians overhauled the cutter. Read had not been able to find the vessel's stock of ammunition, and after firing a few rounds at the pursuing steamers he put off his prisoners, set the cutter on fire and, with his crew, took to the boats. He surrendered to the commander of the steamer Forest City.

Lieutenant Read made a brief report of his cruise on July 30 from Fort Warren and a more detailed one the following year under a Richmond date. So far as the records show, no lives were taken in the course of the raid.—Youth's Companion.

Spotted Black Crape.

Black crape when wetted by rain is almost certain to look spotted. When this is the case lay the crape on a table and place a piece of old black silk underneath the stains. Then dip a soft camel hair brush in black ink and carefully wipe off with a piece of silk the superfluous ink, and the stains will disappear as the places dry.

Flag Language.
There is no international language of flags established by law, but by common consent flags of a certain color are used for certain purposes. All over the world a yellow flag is a signal of contagious disease. A ship hoists it to denote that there are some on board suffering from such disease, and it remains hoisted until she has reached quarantine. The white flag is universally used as a flag of truce. The black flag was formerly the symbol of piracy, and now in some countries it is flown after an execution is performed to indicate that the requirements of the law have been carried out. Other features of flag language are that a flag flying at half mast is a universal sign of mourning; and when a ship has to make a sign of distress she does it by raising the national ensign reversed or upside down. Even this can be emphasized by knotting the flag in the middle to indicate great distress and imminent danger.

Fruit Diet as a Cure.
The fruit diet is a sure and positive cure for what is popularly known as bleeding and for persons usually designated as bleeders, persons who cannot stop the flow of blood once it is started from a wound or other cause. The fruit diet will supply the blood with fibrin. Fibrin is the substance out of which nature fabricates flesh and muscle. A person on the fruit diet hardly bleeds at all when he cuts himself accidentally with a knife or when, for proper reasons, a dentist is forced to draw one of his teeth. The blood coagulates almost instantaneously. If you believe none of this, just try it. The experience is safe and sane. The fruit diet is cheaper and better than the meat diet, and it will do more for you. You will feel fine and chirpy and optimistic. You never find a fruit eater who is a pessimist.—Los Angeles Times.

American Medical Association.
The American Medical association is the largest organization of the kind in the world. There are 70,000 members. In May, 1846, in response to a call issued by the Medical Society of the State of New York, there was held in New York city a conference for the purpose of discussing questions relating to the standardization of medical education in the United States. This conference adjourned to meet a year later in Philadelphia, where it resolved itself into a permanent organization—the American Medical association. A long line of distinguished men have been presidents of the association.
Two Kinds of Bird Houses.
Ordinary wooden boxes, if clean, can be made into bird houses by merely nailing on a cover and cutting out an entrance hole. Such makeshifts are rarely weather proof and are never pleasing to the eye. Branches containing real woodpecker holes, when obtainable, are perhaps the best attraction that can be offered most house birds in the breeding season. By carefully fitting such a branch to a fruit or shade tree its foreign origin will scarcely be noticed.

HORRORS OF WAR

Remarks by Ian Malcolm, M. P., Representative of the British Red Cross With the British Mission, Made in Washington, D. C., May 24, 1917, to Delegates From American Red Cross Chapters.

In France and Flanders you come nearest still to the true agony of the situation. How can I describe it? Think of the worst earthquake, of the worst floods that have scourged and shocked you here at home, multiply the horror of your impressions a hundred fold, and you will come near to the horrors of the Marne and the Aisne. Multiply them a thousand fold and you will realize the ferocity of carnage at the battles of the Aisne and the Somme.

Multiply them two thousand fold and that is the picture of misery and pain and death after the great battles on the plains of Russia and in the mountains of Persia and the Caucasus. Think of the ruin by floods in Flanders, with the stench of thousands of carcasses, human and animal, poisoning the atmosphere for miles around for those who must stay day and night in the trenches. Think of the devastation by fire in France, where villages and woods and broad pasture lands are utterly wiped out of existence, not a house nor a church nor a tree left standing where once there were thousands of families living in a condition as prosperous and happy as anywhere in the world. Then turn your minds to the picture of some great engagement. Try to conceive long trenches of men writhing in torture from poisonous gas or from liquid flame, of soldiers smashed and disfigured by shell wounds, their lacerations indescribable as their heroism is undaunted.

Leave the trenches and retire behind the firing line with me. Here we are on roads lined with men on stretchers, some dead, scores mortally wounded, hundreds upon hundreds of casualties in one or another degree of collapse. The middle of the roadway is filled by dozens of ambulances after every action. There is perhaps a mile length of hospital trains waiting in a siding to convey the wounded to base hospitals. And all this purgatory of pain is dependent for relief upon the skill of our doctors, the tenderness of our nurses, the efficiency of our equipment, all of which means, and is dependent upon, the generosity of the public.

May I not take it for granted that just as the fighting manhood of the United States is soon to be with us in the trenches so you of the Red Cross, who have done so much for us in the past, are now eager to be mobilized in the allied army of mercy and of charity that is almost divine. I assume that your organization is coming with us in increased numbers and with increased equipment, if necessary, to the mountains above and around Saloniki, to the plains of Egypt, to East Africa, to the waterless wastes of Mesopotamia, our tears and triumphs mingling beneath the shadow of the Red Cross flag.

Flag Colors.

The colors of the United States flag are the most common of all used by the nations of the world, and of the three red is the most often encountered. It is found in nineteen out of twenty-five national flags, and in practically all of the European flags. The color as interpreted by heraldry means "military fortitude," and the selection as a factor in the flags of Europe would seem well chosen. Nor is it out of place in our flag, the trait being scattered all through the country, though so charmingly mixed with white, which means "peace and sincerity," that the harmony of the colors of the flag has never been questioned. Blue stands for "loyalty and truth," completing leading traits of the character of the United States as a nation.—Boston Transcript.

For a Night Lamp.

When it is necessary to have a night lamp or a dim light burning in a room a very small piece of gum camphor will burn slowly and last a long time, giving a faint, pleasant odor. Place the camphor gum in a saucer of water, so that it will float, and then touch a match to it. This is a safe and exceedingly inexpensive light.—Washington Star.

WOMAN'S REALM

How to Can

Green Peas and Snap Beans

Washington, D. C., July 9.—Housekeepers can easily can surplus green peas and snap beans, which are beginning to appear in home gardens in many sections. The season has been unusually good for peas, and home gardeners in many localities are reporting unexpectedly heavy yields. Either of these products readily can be canned with no other home equipment than jars or cans and a wash boiler fitted with a false bottom of slats to keep the jars from resting on the bottom.

Here are directions given by the United States Department of Agriculture to the members of the girls' canning clubs in the northern and western states:

Do not try to can peas or beans that have been long off the vines—the fresher the vegetables the better the product.

Shell peas. In case of beans string and cut them as if for cooking.

Put the prepared vegetables in a cheesecloth bag or colander and blanch in live steam from boiling water for from 5 to 10 minutes.

Next dip the blanched product quickly in cold water and remove it almost immediately.

Pack the product immediately into hot scalded glass jars or tin cans.

Fill the containers completely with boiling hot water to which has been added one level teaspoonful of salt per quart. Place rubber rings on jars and screw tops almost, but not completely, tight. The water in the boiler will not enter these partially closed jars. Seal tin can completely.

Put the jars or cans in boiling water in the wash boiler so that the tops are partly or wholly covered. Sterilize for 180 minutes in the boiling water counting from the time the water begins to boil again. If other canning outfits are used, sterilize as follows:

Water seal, 214 degrees, 180 minutes; 5 pounds steam pressure, 60 minutes; 10 to 15 pounds steam pressure, 40 minutes.

Wax and string beans as well as young tender peas may be sterilized in 120 minutes.

Remove jars from boiler or sterilizer, tighten covers, invert to cool and test the joints for leakage. Examine cans for leaks. Even the slightest leak if not closed completely at once, means that the product in all probability will not keep.

Do not place glass jars to cool in a draft which is liable to cause them to crack. Wrap jars in paper to prevent blanching, and store in a cool place.

If peas are roughly handled in blanching or cold dipping, or split or broken peas are not removed before packing, the liquid in the jars may have a slightly clouded appearance. If sterilizing has been properly done, cloudiness is no evidence that the product has spoiled.

For further information on canning these and other vegetables or for advice in overcoming difficulties, write to your state agricultural college, or to the United States Department of Agriculture.

The man who has education, but who lacks the moral courage to do battle vigorously, who will not go to the mat at the drop of the handkerchief whenever a matter of principle is involved regardless of the size of his opponent, and who will not fight doggedly—employing every resource which the ethics of the business game allow, keeping at the same time a cool head and a clear judgment—had better be content with those quiet paths which may be traversed with perfect safety in starched collar and white cuffs.—Industrial Management.

The Most Formative Years.

In the Woman's Home Companion a writer says: "Fathers must realize, as well as mothers, that the first five years of the child's life are the most important in the child's development. It is then that he is most formative, most impressionable. It is then that he needs most serious and careful thought from both parents. And if the child is properly handled through this period half the battles of the future man in the child are won."

Washington and the Artists.

Writing to a friend May 16, 1785, Washington thus described his experience with portrait painters:

"I am so hackneyed to the touches of the painter's pencil that I am now altogether at their beck and sit like Patience on a monument while they are delineating the lines of my face. It is a proof among many others of what habit and custom can effect. At first I was as impatient of the request and as restive under the operation as a colt is of the saddle. The next time I submitted very reluctantly, but with less flinching. Now no dray moves more readily to the mill than I do to the painter's chair."

THE QUESTION OF LABOR
Probably the Most Serious Handicap to Put in Maximum Crops This Year Is the Scarcity of Farm Labor.

[National Crop Improvement Service.]
Many a good crop will be ruined because farmers cannot get labor at the right time. There are two times of the year when more labor is absolutely necessary—at seed time and at harvest. While our farmers need men at other times of the year, these are the two crucial periods.
As it is to the interest of every person living in this county to produce a bumper crop this year, we must do all we can to help the farmer and perhaps the most important thing we can do, is to find him right help of the right class.
There are three classes of farm help—(1) The regular farm hands who are going to be rather scarce, (2) There are, however, a great many men who work in factories, in wholesale houses, drive teams and other occupations who could possibly be spared during the rush seasons. It is the duty of the commercial clubs and manufacturers to make a list of these men and offer them for detached service when urgently needed. There is a third class of labor which is very efficient and that is men of affairs who have been raised on farms who will volunteer to help the farmers out during the rush. This is the greatest work our business men can accept to show their patriotism at this time.

A Report on Rotation of Crops.
[National Crop Improvement Service.]
The tenth annual report of the North Dakota Demonstration Farms is ready for distribution. The crops are rotated on these farms. The results indicate that a rotation of crops pays. The average wheat yield was 29% bushels. This wheat was in most cases followed by corn that had been manured. Oats 58% bushels, barley 37%, rye 21%; alfalfa 2% tons per acre. The rotation practiced on each farm is given in the report as well as a detailed account of just how each field was handled.

BARLEY NEXT TO CORN.
[National Crop Improvement Service.]
Barley has a feeding value next to corn. Indeed some feeders place it ahead of corn for pig food and at the present prices, barley will make as much and more profit than wheat. The wheat crop has now "gone to the jury." We cannot do much more about wheat but we have two or three weeks yet in order to put all of our acreage remaining into barley.

Barley is more profitable than oats. In fact, very few farmers make any money out of oats under the best circumstances and very few barley farmers ever lose money on barley. There is always the fascination of getting a fancy price for fancy barley, and although less than one per cent of all grains are used for malting purposes, the additional price which it gives to barley over oats always makes money for the farmers. While perhaps one per cent of the grain crop is used in brewing, the loss of feed value is much smaller because fully one half goes back to dairy farmers in the form of dried grains and other by-products, which for feed purposes is among the best available.

Long Lived Fish.
Eels have been known to live in captivity sixty years, salmon are said to live in healthy condition 100 years, carp occasionally reach 150, and pike have been known to enjoy an even longer span of life.

GERMANY ON EVE OF BIG UPHEAVAL

Parliamentary Situation in Teuton Empire Is Critical.

ARMY LEADER IS IN BERLIN

Day Promises Momentous Developments in History of Kaiser's Country—Hollweg's Actions Mysterious Reichstag Debate Is Warm.

Berlin, July 9.—Unless all present indications fail in the course of the next few days the German empire is on the eve of a momentous upheaval. Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General von Ludendorff have arrived in Berlin for a conference with the kaiser.
Developments in the past forty-eight hours point squarely to a significant realignment of various factors of the reichstag in favor of sweeping electoral and parliamentary reforms, despite the present stubborn resistance of the reactionary old guard.
Although the sessions of the main committee and the constitution committee have been strictly of an executive nature, the press comment permits the inference that the discussions of vital subjects of governmental policy frequently reached the boiling point.
That they have been of gravely significant import is indicated clearly by the sudden decision to postpone the plenary session which was to have marked the opening of the general debate and the expected speech of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg.

Chancellor's Absence Is Noted.
The absence of the chancellor from the sessions of the main and constitutional committees in the last few days has caused general comment as exceptional in view of the confidential character of the discussions.
It is announced that the desire of the chancellor to inform himself more thoroughly on the nature of the committee conferences was responsible for the delay of the sessions.
Today will mark the inauguration of what promises to be one of the most memorable parliamentary sessions in the history of the empire. The chancellor was present when the committee convened. At the reichstag factions remained in sessions in individual groups until late at night to decide what action might be taken.
There are rumors that Professor Adolf von Harnack is slated to succeed Herr von Troitz zu Solz as Prussian minister of education. The present minister is said to be opposed to sweeping electoral reforms.

FRENCH BEAT BACK
GERMAN ADVANCES

London, July 9.—North of the Aisne the French again have checked the German crown prince in his effort to regain the line of the Chemin-des-Dames.
Attacking on four sectors along a front of seven and a half miles the Germans, suffering heavy losses, were repulsed except on the eastern end of the line between Bettovettes and Froimont farm.
Here, on a front of nearly two miles, they regained some lost elements. Later in the day, in local engagements, the French recaptured more of the lost trenches.
East of Cerny, on the eastern end of the Aisne front, General Petain's men enlarged the ground captured July 1 near Ailles.
On the left bank of the Meuse, northeast of Verdun, the French took the offensive and carried three strong salients.
German efforts to dislodge the Russians from positions gained at Godev and Konichy have been repulsed. At attacks to the north and around Brzezany also failed. At Stanislaw, the Russians have made attacks, but, according to Berlin, they resulted in no gain of ground.

PACIFISTS ASK EARLY PEACE

Meeting in Chicago Is Attended by Many Secret Service Men.
Chicago, July 9.—Many resolutions dealing with the war were adopted at a mass meeting here in connection with the second American conference for democracy and terms of peace. Fifty secret service men were said to have been present.
The resolutions favor an immediate general and democratic peace, urge the government to announce immediately its war aims and pledge the conference to work for repeal of all laws for compulsory military training and service. Representative Mason of Illinois attacked the draft law.

The Story of a
French Civilian

Note.—The following is the first of a series of three letters by William Philip Simms, United Press staff correspondent, telling the story of a French civilian who remained in the village of Savy during the war and whose diary was given to Simms when he entered the village with the British troops when they retook it from the Germans.
BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

With the British Armies in the Field, June 25 (By Mail).—Here are a few extracts from the diary of a French civilian who remained in Savy, a village just east of St. Quentin, throughout the war and who was the first to welcome the British troops when they retook the place from the Germans.

Rumors of war are chronicled during the last days of July, 1914. Great apprehension among the inhabitants. At the beginning of August men of military age depart. After eight or nine days some of these are sent back as unfit. Groups of women are to be seen at intervals, in the street, discussing the war. The postman comes but irregularly and, after Aug. 20 ceases altogether.

Aug. 21.—A number of British troops pass through going in the direction of St. Quentin.

Aug. 23.—Some English cavalry arrive and sleep in the town.

Aug. 24.—More British cavalry. With the rest they leave in the direction of Etrelles. Cannon are heard booming.

Aug. 27.—Cannon thundering always nearer. A great number of Belgian refugees pass, on foot, in carts and wagons and on horseback. They said they did not know where they were going. "We are flying from the Germans. That is all we know."

Aug. 28.—About 200 of the people of Savy initiate the Belgians but before night 60 come back. Mme. Choin back from St. Quentin said the Germans had entered the city. Nobody would believe her.

Aug. 29.—Germans enter Savy, the first at 10 A. M. They pass through towards Etrelles. The people shut their doors and windows and remained inside. The men of a convoy of small baggage carts break Mlle. Boulanger's shop window (she having left Savy) and pillaged the store.

Sept. 1st.—A convoy of wagons arrive and install themselves along the whole street leading to the Bergerie. At Carpentiers they drank up all his liquor and played music all afternoon.

Sept. 23.—The Germans leave Savy after looting every house the owner of which had left the village.

Sept. 25.—Wounded in carts and on foot pass through towards St. Quentin. Inhabitants of Savy who have horses are ordered to report at Colombin to fetch flour from St. Quentin. Of 67 inhabitants of Maquigny who passed through Savy yesterday being taken to St. Quentin, four returned this afternoon. The rest were conducted to Germany.

Sept. 29.—15 cwt. oats are to be delivered over to the Germans by 11 A. M. Carts came today requisitioning 22 cwt. oats.

Oct. 3.—The Germans have demanded 16,000 franc in taxes from Savy. Corn, clover and oats must be supplied also. M. Grannier reports from St. Quentin that the French army has been cut in two.
Oct. 19.—All bicycles, guns and blankets must be collected and taken to Vimand by tomorrow. The Germans also require eggs. Roads will have to be kept in condition or a fine of 3,000 francs will be levied.
Oct. 20.—All pigeons have to be killed.
Oct. 22.—A German officer says the war will be over by end of October.
Oct. 23.—All males, 16 to 60 must report to town hall. Nobody allowed in streets between 6 P. M. and 3 A. M. Laissez-passe required.
Oct. 31.—Rumored that French have taken Lille, Liege, etc.; that Belgian army has been reformed; that Russians have entered Berlin. Sound of guns continually heard. Constant traffic through village.
(Note.—Curiously enough the diary contains no rumors of a battle on the Marne, proving the German soldiers on one spot were kept in utter ignorance of what was going on in another.)
Nov. 10.—Notice served that all French, English or Belgian soldiers hidden away must be reported under severe penalty.
Nov. 19.—Three Germans came to my door to ask if I had any arms. They said that America is declaring war on England.
Dec. 7.—All telephones must be deposited at town hall.
Dec. 19.—We received a visit from four Germans who demanded if we had any arms, cartridges, wine or money. On leaving they marked an X on our door.
(Further entries will be quoted in the next article.)

CHINESE EMPEROR QUILTS
Hsuan Tung Abdicates When Imperial Army Is Defeated.
London, July 9.—The abdication of Hsuan Tung, the youthful emperor who was placed on the throne of China only a week ago by General Chang Hsun, is indicated by press dispatches from Peking, followed the defeat of the imperialist forces at Lung Fang and the desertion of many of Chang Hsun's soldiers.
It appears that General Chang Hsun, depressed by the failure of his attempt to restore the monarchy, tendered his resignation to the emperor, who thereupon issued an edict announcing his abdication.
Peking virtually is hemmed in on all sides and the Peking-Kalgan railway, Chang Hsun's only means of escape northward, is in the hands of the republicans.

Bees Attack Winona Woman.
Winona, Minn., July 9.—Mrs. I. B. Keeler, a prominent local woman, is in a serious condition at her home here as a result of being attacked by a large swarm of bees. Mrs. Keeler was having the bees when they suddenly turned on her. Neighbors rescued her after she had lost consciousness. Attending physicians believe she will recover.

KILLS WIFE TO STOP HER DRINKING; SHOOTSELF.
Superior, Wis., July 9.—After slashing his wife to death with a butcher knife, Ole Peterson, fifty years old, bathhouse keeper, killed himself with a rifle. The act ended a family row which began over the woman's continued drinking, according to neighbors, who found the bodies on the floor of the Peterson home when they came to call.

Maine Counties.
The three original counties of Maine had old English county names, York, Cumberland and Lincoln. Only two, Oxford and Somerset, have been similarly named since, all the rest having American appellations, for the names of Androscoggin, Arrostook, Kennebec, Penobscot, Piscataquis and Sagadahoc find their origin among the aborigines, while Franklin, Hancock, Knox and Washington bear the names of distinguished Americans of the white race.

SENATE VOTES TO KILL WHISKY

Effort to Include Wine and Bee Meets Defeat.

HOUSE EXPECTED TO AGREE

Big Dry Victory Comes After War Fight When Amendment Is Adopted: 45 to 37—Clause Barring Distilled Liquors Empowers Wilson to Seize Stocks.

Washington, July 9.—The whisky business will be wiped out thirty day after the Lever food control bill becomes a law through these provision in the final agreement reached on prohibition in the senate:

First.—The president is authorized to take over for government use all distilled spirits held in bond.

Second.—The manufacture of distilled spirits from foodstuffs is prohibited.

Third.—The importation of distilled spirits is prohibited. This means that the only whisky, brandy, gin and rum and other distilled liquors which can be sold after that date will be those in stock, in saloons.

Refuse to Go Bone Dry.

By a vote of 45 to 27, the senate refused to make the nation bone dry by including wine and beer with distilled liquors. The proposal to give President Wilson control over beer and wine-making was defeated, 35 to 46.

The big dry victory of the day was the adoption of the amendment by Senator Smoot of Utah, authorizing the president to take over all distilled spirits in bond and providing compensation of cost plus a 10 per cent profit to the owners.

The difference between the prohibition section passed by the house and the one agreed to by the senate is that the former prohibits the making of any kind of intoxicating liquor from foodstuffs, but does not prohibit the importation, while the latter deal only with distilled spirits, but provides absolute prohibition.

Expect House to Yield.

The question likely will go to conference as it now stands with a strong probability that the house will yield to the changes made by the senate.

The senate provision would limit consumption to stocks in retailers hands or withdrawn before the law goes into effect. Stocks of distilled beverages in bond are estimated at between 200,000,000 and 300,000,000 gallons and the annual normal consumption at 120,000,000 gallons.

To purchase this enormous quantity of liquor, or what is left of it after withdrawals in anticipation of the legislation, it is estimated the government will have to spend from $300,000,000 to $1,000,000,000.

The probable loss in federal revenues is placed at from $200,000,000 to $400,000,000, although this, as well as the cost of purchase, would depend entirely on how much liquor was withdrawn tax-paid before the commandeering.

Machine Protection is Very Important This Year

Machine manufacturers state that enough steel for about 75 per cent of the NORMAL machine demand is all they can figure on this year.

The demand for machines, due to big prospective crops, is almost sure to be away above normal with a possibility of the machine companies being unable to deliver.

Save Your Present Machines

by building a shed for them where you can keep them in good condition and protect them from rust and rot. The shed will surely cost you less than new machines or extensive repairs, and as new machines are not available this season a shed may save part of your crops. See us now for the material for such a shed while the MATERIAL can be had.

An unidentified foreign laborer is known to have perished in the flames of a hotel, and it is believed others were lost.

E. Kahn, proprietor of a cafe, is held in the county jail here on suspicion, as is Ernest Blix, a painter.

Telephone and telegraph lines were cut shortly before the fire started and the town was unable to call for help. The loss will be about $25,000.

The union requested a conference with employers prior to July 12 and threatens a strike unless such a conference is arranged.

OVER 100 RENEWALS CHAMBER COMMERCE

Response Shows Interest in Institution is Sustained, Circular Letter Sent Out

SUBSTANTIAL ENDORSEMENT

New Membership Record Books are Opened Soon After Tuesday, July 10th

Over one hundred renewals of contracts in the Chamber of Commerce came in during the first three days of July in response to a circular letter sent out from the secretary's office to members whose contracts expired July 1. These letters were sent only to those on the three-year contract. Within the past few days, renewals have been coming in in a very satisfactory manner and over two hundred memberships have either been renewed by contracts or by phone messages authorizing a renewal of the same.

Substantial Endorsement

This response is most satisfactory to the committee on membership and is taken as a very stable manner of endorsing the work of the Chamber of Commerce. With every prospect for trying, responsible years ahead of the organization, years during which problems which must effect the entire commonwealth must be met through the co-operation of wide awake citizens, acting intelligently through one common medium or clearing-house, the Chamber of Commerce assumes a more vitally important position to the civic life of Brainerd and this county and thinking men apparently realize this and are lending their moral and financial support without solicitation.

Do it Now

Membership renewal blanks are available at the office of the secretary and members whose contracts expired July first are urged to be prompt in renewing, as it is important that the new membership record books are opened soon after July 10.

Local Institution Notified They Have Been Accepted as Members Natl. Assn. Dyers and Cleaners

The Model Laundry has been notified that they have been accepted as members of the National Association of Dyers and Cleaners. This puts Brainerd on the map as having a dry cleaning plant which comes up to the rigid standards demanded by the national association.

The dry cleaning department of the Model Laundry has made great strides in the last few months and their progressive spirit has been rewarded by the recognition given them by the national association.

Dry cleaning plants which come up to the rigid requirements of the national association are few in this state and are found only in the larger cities.

HEAVY RAIN SUNDAY

A heavy rain Sunday morning which drenched Brainerd with 72 hundredths of an inch and was accompanied by some hail, spread north and east. At Hubert there was considerable hail. Damage to crops however was not heavy.

Roads about Aitkin were sticky and the rain fell in sheets in the bog country near Cromwell, Tamarack, etc. At Duluth the storm started about 7:20 Saturday morning. Lightning struck two houses Sunday. The residence of Carl J. Anderson was slightly damaged and the shock dazed Mr. Anderson.

The First Minnesota Infantry National Guard is now filled to war strength and has 2,002 men, said Lieutenant Irie Mallette, who commands the detachment guarding the railway bridge and other points in Brainerd.

The regiment, however, lacks three cobblers and one cook. It was suggested in a spirit of fun, that a warrant be inserted: "Wanted, cook for regiment. Steady job, good pay, must be one not dreading to cook by shell fire."

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the illness and death of our husband and father. BALANCE LEFT IN COFFRAIN FUND

Meeting at Chamber of Commerce Wednesday to Decide on Disposition of $45.52 Balance

MAY BE GIVEN TO RED CROSS

Some Suggested Turning it Over to Committee on Charities of the Chamber of Commerce

There is a balance of $45.52 in the Coffrain search fund and the committee composed of J. A. Thabes, chairman, Henry I. Cohen and Fred T. Lincoln is anxious to close the account.

A meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, prior to the regular meeting of the Chamber and all who contributed to this fund are invited to be present and express their wishes as to the final disposition of this balance.

It has been suggested that the balance be turned over to the committee on charities of the Chamber of Commerce, of which H. F. Michael is chairman and that it be used to add worthy persons during the coming winter or for some charitable purpose. Another suggestion is to have the balance turned in to the local chapter of the Red Cross, for use in the work of aiding American soldiers at the war front.

This is for the ones who donated to the fund to decide and the committee awaits suggestions. Should there be no general sentiment expressed as to the disposition of the balance, the committee will assume the right to turn it over to some worthy cause and through avenues which will insure its careful and intelligent use.

Signed,

J. A. THABES,

Chairman.

The Name "Daziel"

The well known newspaper proprietor Sir Henry Daziel bears a name whose pronunciation offers a deal of difficulty to Englishmen.

Even in Scotland the practice varies. Some owners of the name call themselves "Daziel," some "Dal-zell," some "Dal-zeel" and some simply "DL," while the late George Daziel often alluded to himself as "Daziel."

Professor Daziel of Edinburgh preferred the second pronunciation and in his later years always dropped the "i" when signing his name.

When challenged about it he replied: "Why not? If an 'i' offend thee pluck it out."—London Mirror.

OPPOSES ENLISTING THE TUBERCULOUS

National Association for Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis So Advises Course

DISEASE IS SERIOUS MENACE

Resolutions to Such Effect Have Been Sent to President Wilson, Council National Defense

(From Minnesota Public Health Association)
New York, July 9.—Aroused by reports that a history of tuberculosis or even the existence of the disease in some form will not be considered by some medical examiners as a bar to enlistment in the United States army and navy, the national association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis is urging upon federal authorities to prevent the spread of tuberculosis among enlisted men through the breaking down of afflicted persons or persons with a history of tuberculosis. Such cases, developing rapidly under the rigors of army life, constitute a serious menace to those who enter the ranks without infection.

Resolutions to this effect have been sent to President Wilson, the Council of National Defense, and to the secretaries of war and navy.

It is pointed out in the resolution that it has been the experience of the warring nations of Europe that cases of incipient and even moderately advanced tuberculosis are frequently unrecognized in the routine examination of recruits; and that inactive tuberculosis is frequently rendered active by the physical and mental strain and exposure of modern warfare.

"The appalling prevalence of tuberculosis in the armies both in the field and in the concentration camps with the inevitable and widespread extension of the infection from these to the civilian population is the greatest of all health problems presented by the present war," it continues, "and the extreme gravity of the situation demands that the services of all the most highly trained men available be utilized most effectively for protection against the occurrence of conditions now prevailing in France and other countries."

The association recommends the enlistment by the Council of National Defense of the best available tuberculosis experts and agencies in the country for the following specific purposes:

(a) To make under the command of a ranking medical officer of the army corps repeated routine examinations and observation of recruits while in training and mobilization camps for the purpose of detecting any obscure tuberculosis lesions;

(b) To utilize and enlarge the existing sanatoria and hospitals of our country so that all cases of tuberculosis arising in our forces may be adequately cared for as near as possible to their own homes;

(c) To work out in co-operation with existing health authorities a definite, comprehensive and constructive program for adequate prevention and control of tuberculosis among the whole population."

Booth Established in Duluth for Information and for Recording Tourists Complaints

(Duluth News Tribune)
Within another week automobile routes that are being blazed out of Duluth to various points in the northwest will have been completed, officials of the Duluth Automobile club announced last night.

The completion of these arteries marks the end of years of labor and varied effort to connect Duluth by a series of improved highways to important cities within a radius of 300 miles or more.

The continuation of the Duluth-Twin City highway to Port Arthur, known as the Black and White trail, will be completed this week. The distance is 270 miles along the scenic route.

The Duluth Fargo trail, marked in green and white, which runs through Brainerd, also a part of the Black Diamond route, is completed. The Vermilion road, from Duluth to Biwabik and through Hibbing, is another continuation of the Green and White trail and is so blazed.

The Miller trunk road, the other route to the ranges, will be in Yellow and White. The newly opened Floodwood road connecting Duluth, Floodwood and Grand Rapids through to Bemidji will be known as the Red and White trail.

Ray V. Bennett, state manager for the American Trail Blazing association has been in Duluth supervising the work of blazing the trails, which have been made prominent enough to make confusion of roads impossible. All blazing will be finished in a week or two.

The seven roads now leading out of Duluth will be entered in the official guide book of the trail association so that tourists throughout the country can see at a glance which trail is the shortest to a given point.

As a further accommodation to out-of-town tourists and members of the Duluth club an information booth in charge of M. M. Hanna has been established at 428 West Superior street. This will also be a complaint bureau. Tourists encountering bad roads or injustice at the hands of village authorities are asked to repay the club for its free information by reporting instances.

CURE FOR BRAIN FOG

Half Holiday at Gun Club Each Week Will Keep a Man Young

BY "TRAPSHOOTER"
(For National Sports Syndicate)

A traveling man, stopping at a local hotel, told of the prescription given to New York business men by Dr. L. R. Welamiller, physical director of a metropolitan Y. M. C. A. in which the doctor ordered the brain-fagged and nerve-wrecked to "beat it" for the country, smoke corn-silk cigarettes and otherwise act like "kids."

A notice posted throughout the association building reads in part:

"Forget your dignity, throw away your staidness and be a kid again—a wholesome, fun-loving, boisterous, dime-novel-reading kid—during your vacation."

"Dime novels make good summer reading. They are next to the Bible for vacation reading, but take the Bible along, of course. Many great men read 'Nick Carter,' 'Jesse James' and like writings for relaxation. Most of you men have come to New York and have made good. Help yourselves to make good again next winter by being a boy on your vacation."

"This is mighty good advice," said the salesman, "but I question whether an annual vacation of even so care-free a nature as that described will benefit a busy man as much as a regular weekly half holiday at a trapshooting club pulverizing the clay birds, for there is nothing I know of that will clear away mental cobwebs like the effort to break twenty-five, fifty or so targets. And too, the shooter can, between squads, climb on top of a five-rail fence, lie on the grass or throw stones at tin cans with all the abandon of 'kid-ood' in fact, one can see just such antics cut up at most any trapshooting club by men who in business life are painfully dignified."

"The yearly vacation is all right, but the periodical outing is better, and a trapshooting club is the place to have a lot of real fun aside from the pleasure of shooting."

Weinert-Fulton Matching Grotesque

BY H. C. HAMILTON.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 9.—Fred Fulton recently got through winning another referee's decision over Charley Weinert, the alleged heavyweight from New Jersey, and this was the signal for Harry Pollok to turn loose on the poor fans of New York state a ream or so of statements concerning the shortcomings of Fulton.

Fulton won his fight in the second round of a scheduled ten round go when the referee stopped the bout after continually warning Weinert against fouling. At the very start of the melee Weinert sank his fists low into Fulton's abdomen. He was warned repeatedly, yet he finally lost his bout just for that reason.

Weinert can't beat Fulton. He can't make even a half-way interesting match for the big fellow. Fulton simply outclasses the Jersey scrapper.

Harry Pollok's cries have become too old to be taken seriously by any one. He never has failed to have an alibi ready when one of his stable took a beating. His antics after Freddie Welsh was deprived of his title by Benny Leonard were in keeping with this statement, when he claimed Freddie had been unfairly decided against.

Any one who saw Fulton and Weinert when they came together in New York last winter while Fulton was going so well could not help but feel Weinert was in for a bad beating when it was announced Buffalo had arranged for another meeting between them. When they tangled in Madison Square Garden under the direction of the late Grant Hugh Brown, Fulton was so much better, so much the harder puncher there was nothing to the bout but a joke and a feeling of pity. Weinert was punched off his feet.

That's exactly what will happen if they come together again. Weinert as a scrapper isn't even to be considered in the same breath with Fulton.

"Phantoma" German Star Aviator Sought

BY W. S. FORREST.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

There is one German flyer who is really "wanted" by the French military and aviation service. "Phantoma" as this enemy aviator has been named along the French front, special performance is to suddenly appear at dawn of day or in the dusk of twilight, machine gunning the trenches.

A divisional has offered official recognition to any aviator who brings this aerial "Flying Dutchman" down. Ray Bridgeman, Lake Forest, Ill., and Edwin Parsons, Holyoke, Mass., members of the Lafayette Escadrille braved a thunder storm at nine P. M. one night recently to take the air after the phantom flyer. Phantom-like, however, he melted himself into the dusk and escaped the American pursuers.

NO MORE FOOD FOR FOE VIA NEUTRALS

Curb on Shipments Expected to Cause Violent Protests.

OUR POSITION IS REVERSED

Objections Were Made to England Before We Entered the War, but Now All Allies Are Attempting to Starve Germany Into Submission—Tax Bill Delayed by General Consent.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 9.—[Special.]—In dealing with the European neutrals, particularly those of northern Europe, we find that we must reverse the position we took in the early stages of the war.

In those days, it may be remembered, when England seized and searched our ships, confiscated their cargoes, told us we should not send food and other commodities to neutral nations, destined perhaps for Germany, we made loud and emphatic protests. We claimed the right to ship all goods not actually contraband to any neutral country. Great Britain said no, that such goods found their way to Germany and she should not permit it. And she didn't, although we made some serious objections.

Must Do the Same.

Now that we are at war with Germany, we have found that we must stop our own shipments to neutral nations in northern Europe and to Switzerland because they will be sold to Germany. Of course there are going to be objections. Neutrals may pull some of our old protests and ask us to be consistent, but we shall reply that we take the consistency out of things, particularly neutrals.

At all events we do not propose that our high priced food, so much needed by our allies, shall go through Denmark, Holland, Sweden and Norway into Germany. We are as much interested now in "starving Germany into submission" as England was at the beginning of the war.

Nobody Speeding the Tax Bill.

Senator Lodge, after stating that he had been at work for five weeks with other members of the finance committee on the war revenue bill, added: "There seems to be a great deal of speed asked in the consideration of the various war measures, but no one is trying to speed the tax bill. While complaint is made about delay of nearly every other war measure, there is no one anxious to have this tax bill rushed."

The Massachusetts senator also insisted that criticism of delay in congress were unfounded. He asserted that congress had been diligent and had enacted much important legislation at this session.

If Congress Had Its Way.

If congress had its way entirely the tax levies would not be so heavy this year. Secretary McAdoo has asked for a billion eight hundred millions. Congress would like to make the amount considerably less. "We must raise more money by bonds and not so much by taxation," was a remark made by Senator Martin, the leader of the senate. If the house will consent that program will be followed in the final enactment of the revenue bill.

"The Great Minority."

Meyer London, the Socialist, is a party by himself, which caused Congressman Sloan of Nebraska thus to refer to him in the course of a humorous speech. He first spoke of the wonderful combination, London and New York, "the first named for the Socialist representative and the latter in part represented by him." Speaking of London's statement about the few opposing the many, Sloan said: "He exemplified his own words when he, the great minority of this house, began to oppress the majority. What an aristocracy he establishes for himself when he takes to task the weak and supine Republican and Democratic parties, grasps them in his teeth and with that iron jaw shakes them before the approving eyes of the world!"

Full of State Pride.

The new senator from Oregon, McNary, has a great deal of pride in his state. He is too young to have absorbed many of the stories of its early days, but he is keenly alive to all that is modern in that state, a state which has sent forth a great many modern ideas. Senator McNary, as the one Republican from a state west of the Missouri which was carried by his party last fall, has very good standing among his associates on the Republican side.

Victory Through the Air.

Congressman Tilson of Connecticut, who knows more about war, materials for war and the practical side of military affairs than any man in congress, in a speech on aircraft and other war matters said:

"Since our entry into this war I have observed every report coming from the other side, and I am more firmly convinced than ever that our road to victory is through the air."

At another point he said: "Germany has used psychology in this war to a great extent. Great Britain and France have used it scarcely at all." He referred to the 42 centimeter guns, the Zeppelins and submarines as terrors and effective weapons.

A Gould Weds a Poor Italian

MR. AND MRS. KINGDON GOULD

Kingdon Gould, eldest son of Geo. J. Gould, who was the eldest son and principal heir of Jay Gould, the founder of the family, married a poor Italian girl art student at the rectory of St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City the other day. The girl, Miss Annuziatta Camilla Maria Lucet, was educated in a convent in Pisa, Italy. Very little is known of her. The fact that none of the family of the young man was present at the ceremony led to the belief that there had been family trouble over the wedding. But if there was it was not sufficient to prevent the marriage.

WILSON DECREES EXPORT CONTROL

U. S. Licenses to Be Required for Shipments.

SIXTY-DAY BAN IS PROBABLE

President Says Aim Is to Consider American Needs First, Meet Allied Wants and Then Extend Aid to Neutrals Where Practicable.

Washington, July 9.—Government control of American exports, authorized in a provision of the espionage act, was ordered put into operation a week from today by President Wilson with the issuance of a proclamation requiring the licensing of shipments to all countries of the most important commodities.

In a statement accompanying the proclamation the president declared the government's policy will be, first, to give consideration to American needs; next, to meet as far as possible the requirement of the allies, and lastly, to supply the neutral countries wherever practicable.

It is made clear that every effort will be made to see that no supplies reach the central powers. The commodities put under control are coal, coke, fuel, oil, kerosene and gasoline, including bunkers, food grains, flour and meal, fodder and feeds, meats and fats, pig iron, steel billets, scrap plates and structural shapes, scrap iron and scrap steel, ferro manganese fertilizers, arms, ammunition and explosives.

Limited Embargo Probable.

The inclusion of foodstuffs in the proclamation lends color to state ments that the administration is considering the advisability of a complete embargo for sixty days on all food shipments to give the country time to ascertain the amount of its supplies and to give allied and neutral countries an opportunity to present a full program of their requirements.

Through control of coal and fuels the government intends to take a firm grasp on shipping. An arrangement under negotiation will give the American and British governments control of not only all allied tonnage, but of neutral vessels as well.

Specific regulations governing food exports and shipments of other commodities named in the list are expected to be issued by the president in a few days. Even if a complete embargo is not placed on food exports for a time it is known many restrictions will be made.

WET OR WASHED EGGS.

They Spoil Easily and Cause an Enormous and Needless Loss.

Eggs are needlessly spoiled every year by washing and wetting. Approximately 5,016,000 dozen eggs spoil every year because some one has let clean eggs get wet or has washed dirty eggs before sending them to market, according to the specialists of the United States department of agriculture. Careful investigation of large quantities of stored eggs show that from 17 to 22 per cent of washed eggs become worthless in storage, whereas only 4 to 8 per cent of dirty eggs stored unwashed spoil. The explanation is simple.

Water removes from the shell of the egg a gelatinous covering which helps keep air and germs out of the inside of the egg. Once the covering is removed by washing or rain which gets to eggs in the nest, germs and mold have ready access to the contents and spoil the eggs.

The enormous loss in storage eggs largely can be prevented if producers and egg handlers, especially during March, April and May, refrain from washing eggs destined for the storage markets and take pains to reduce the number of dirty eggs by providing plenty of clean, sheltered nests for their hens.

In view of this great loss of valuable food the department urges country storekeepers and hucksters not to accept washed eggs for shipment in case lots. Shiny eggs, especially in the early spring, probably have been washed. All washed eggs purchased should be sold locally for immediate consumption.

CITY MAN AND COUNTRY ROADS

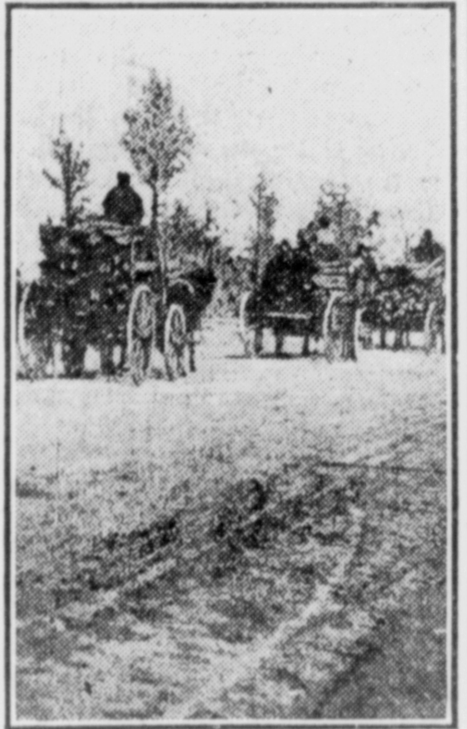

Bad Roads Cost Townspeople a Heavy Toll.

INCREASE THE FOOD COSTS

People Living in Cities Should Have a Real Personal Interest in the Good Roads Problem, Because Poor Highways Mean a Considerable Increase in the Cost of Living.

Some persons living in cities say they have no interest in road building; that they have their hands full trying to keep the city streets in fair condition. "Let the hicks build their own roads if they want them," is the attitude taken.

When the average townsman dresses in the morning a large part of the clothes he puts on are made of cotton, which has to be teamed over a good many miles from the plantations to the shipping points. If he has fruit, cereal, eggs and toast for breakfast, let us say, about everything he eats has been hauled over several miles of roads ef-ther to be shipped to him or to the mills where it is prepared for shipment. A large part of the furniture in his home and at his office has been made from hardwood hauled over the roads. These and other things which anybody can list for himself must all vary in price to the townsman with the cost of hauling them from the farms and forests to the mills or railroad stations. Just what this fact means has been stated by J. E. Pennypacker, the highway economist of the United States office of public roads, as follows:

"The public roads throughout the country, which constitute the primary means of transportation for all agricultural products, for many millions of tons of forest, mine and manufactured products, and which for a large percentage of farmers are the only avenues of transportation leading from the point of production to the point of consumption or rail shipment, have been improved to only a slight extent. By reason of this fact the prevailing cost of hauling over these roads is about 23 cents per ton mile. More than 350,000,000 tons are hauled over these roads each year, and the average haul is about eight miles, from which it can readily be seen that our annual bill for hauling over the public roads is nearly $650,000,000. The cost per ton mile for hauling on hard surfaced roads should not exceed 13 cents. It is therefore evident that if our roads were adequately improved a large annual saving in the cost of hauling would result."

The difference between 23 and 13 cents is 10 cents, which is the ton mile tax of poor roads which the city people pay, for most of the hauling is toward markets or shipping points, and the cost of this hauling is part of the total expense of products of the land to the consumer. The total is about $280,000,000.

Poor roads put a much more serious drain on the townsman's pocketbook, however. His food is costing him more every year, and he therefore has a very close personal interest in having the agricultural lands farmed in such a way that they yield their largest returns at the lowest working cost. This means more than producing milk and vegetables at a low cost; it also includes raising at a low expense the wheat and corn from which his flour and meal are made, producing fowls and hogs economically and reducing the cost of growing cotton. How many intelligent young men able to earn a good living in a city will live in the country if they have to travel through miles of mud or dust at decided physical discomfort in order to market their products, meet their friends or buy their supplies? How many young women will be willing to live in the country, where bad roads isolate them, with only the sparrows for companions, with the doctor almost inaccessible, the schools hard for the children to reach and churchgoing a real labor? Yet if the townsman is to have the things he eats grown for him efficiently and economically he must take his part in making country life agreeable and profitable to these intelligent young people. It means a saving of dollars and cents to him.
